Monkey Musketeers is HOME ALONE meets INDIANA JONES crafted to entertain and reach the same audience these great films captured grossing a billion worldwide dollars

A Boy forms a Resistance Group with 3 Monkeys from his Uncle's Zoo and shows how Inferior the Superior Race really is when he's forced to Save his Parents from going to the Nazi Prison camps.

Emotional plot:

12-year old Jeppe is brutally awakened from his Musketeer dreamworld, when his parents are arrested by the nazis, and he has to become a hero in the real world in order to save his parents.

Action plot:

Jeppe loves "The Three Musketeers" and sees himself as the hero D'Artagnan. Although strictly forbidden by his parents, he every day sneaks into the Zoo where his uncle is a zookeeper, to train the motorbike-crazy gorilla, Porthos, the hat-happy orang, Athos, and the gun-obsessed chimp, Aramis, to become Musketeers.

But the monkeys are not keen on obeying orders. Aramis escapes from the cage to get hold of Waffen SS Sturmbandführer Fokkenwerfer's Luger. And Porthos and Athos follow suit on a German motorbike. Jeppe has to get them back before his uncle finds out they are gone. But they all end up in a field outside Copenhagen in the middle of a British "drop" of a container for the Danish Resistance full of tranquillizers.

Unfortunately, Fokkenwerfer and his men are lying in wait. And Jeppe is shocked when he sees his father and uncle among the Resistance fighters who flee without the container. Again, the monkeys take matters in their own big hands. And Jeppe and his unruly Musketeers end up snatching the container away from Fokkenwerfer, escaping on the motorbike. But before Jeppe can give the container back to his father, and find out what it's for, his parents and his uncle are arrested by Fokkenwerfer together with most of the Resistance group.

Jeppe and the monkeys are left alone with the container. And in the heat of things, Jeppe finds out the pills were dropped down to help the Resistance fighters saving the many Danes - who daily undergo a "Cranimetric examination", and found to belong to "The inferior race", tortured silly and going to be sent to the Nazi camps. The pills prevent them from freaking out when they're rescued from the Nazi Headquarters and during the secret boatripe to Sweden and freedom. Jeppe's parents and his uncle get the same treatment and fate. And Jeppe and his Monkey Musketeers are the only ones who can save them now.

Second Draft Screenplay in Danish and American.
